Introduction

At its heart, football is a simple game. The difference between winning and losing comes down to your team's ability to score more goals than your opponents.

Everybody loves to watch attacking football; club sides like Arsenal and Manchester United and international teams like Brazil and Holland are followed by millions of people who do not necessarily support those teams, but who enjoy watching fast, incisive and attractive attacking football.

The thrill of scoring a goal and the feeling it gives you is very hard to describe. This is the same for a young player playing his first game, or a veteran on a Sunday park pitch, as it is for a top professional in the World Cup final. However, one thing is for sure, once you score that first goal, you are immediately in love with the game and the feeling of scoring a goal.

This book aims to increase your team's chances of creating and converting goal scoring opportunities. The drills aim to build confidence in possession of the ball and enhance your player's understanding of when, where and what to do in the final 3rd of the pitch.

The drills are designed to allow maximum time in contact with a ball and include lots of variation on movement and choice of action by the players. As a coach you can modify the drills and add your own rules that fall into line with your own tactics and vision of how you would like your team to play.

Often the best attacking play is instinctive and "off the cuff"; however, in your training sessions you must be able to show the players all the possibilities that are open to them when attacking. Once you have opened up your players awareness, then they will be more flexible and creative in game situations. This in turn will lead to more goal scoring chances being created.

This book is divided into three key areas of training:

- 1 – Unopposed build up and combination play
- 2 – Opposed drills
- 3 – Small-Sided Games

As we go through the book, we will describe why each area is so important in creating the building blocks of training and learning.

How to use this book

Setup

Area

You may not be able to exactly recreate the suggested area for any number of reasons. The size is by no means an absolute but should not be deviated from too excessively. As a general rule 10 yards is equal to 7 strides. You can use this simple equivalent to mark out the area you need; 20 yards = 14 strides, 30 yards = 21 strides etc.

Players

Each drill in this book shows a recommended number of players needed to run that particular drill. The drills can, on the whole, be easily expanded and many assume that you will have a queue of players that keep the drill ticking over while your players collect errant shots and make their way back to the starting point.

Equipment

One of the beauties of the game is that it can be played almost anywhere with a reasonably flat surface. If you do not have some of the equipment listed in the Setup section, you can, of course, substitute equipment you do have. Training tops become cones, corner flags become goalposts, parents and coaches become mannequins.

The Steps

The steps required to run each drill have been broken down into 3 sections, each relating to a numbered illustration showing what movements should be made within each step.

In section 3 (Small-Sided Games) some of the games are continuous so the steps shown here are in fact the initial rules and apply throughout the duration of the game.

Rotation

Some of the drills in this book operate on a more obvious rotation than others. A player takes his shot and then rejoins the back of the queue for example. Others require players to move from one station to the next taking on the role of attacker, defender or server. Others, such as the small-sided games in section 3, operate continuously for a set period of time.

SECTION 1

Unopposed build up and combination play

“Unopposed drills improve the technique, movement and, most importantly, the confidence of players when attacking the opponents’ goal. We start this section with simple two player combinations and gradually build into crossing areas and team build-up play in order to score a goal”

Unopposed build up and combination play

1 - Free Movement to Score

"This drill encourages your forwards to find and attack space beyond the back line."

SETUP

Area: Half Pitch
Equipment: 3 Mannequins, 1 Goal
No. of Players: 4 Outfield, 1 Goalkeeper

THE STEPS

1. The midfielder makes an angled movement in order to receive a pass. He receives the ball side on and then dribbles towards the mannequin.
2. The midfielder looks up whilst dribbling and makes a through pass for the forward.
3. The forward receives the pass into space and then shoots at goal.

ROTATION

- The midfielder becomes the forward.
- The forward joins the queue to become the attacker.

1

The midfielder moves to receive a pass.

2

The forward must time his run to stay onside.

3

The forward receives the ball in space and shoots at goal.

2 - Hat-Trick of Chances

"Test your attackers with this simple drill which encourages a range of finishing techniques."

SETUP

Area: Half Pitch
Equipment: 3 Cones, 1 Goal
No. of Players: 4 Outfield, 1 Goalkeeper

THE STEPS

1. The shooting player passes into the target player and runs to receive a return pass and shoot.
2. The shooting player reacts and runs to the goal line server in order to receive an aerial pass to head at goal.
3. Finally, he runs to the last server and receives a pass to turn and shoot at goal.

ROTATION

- The shooting player becomes the target player.
- The target player joins the queue to become the attacker.

1

The forward plays a one-two and shoots at goal.

2

Then runs into the box for a header...

3

...before running out to receive a third ball for a final shot at goal.

3 - Blind Side Runs

"Get your strikers moving along the line and timing their runs to perfection to meet a through ball and beat the keeper."

SETUP

Area: 40 x 30 yards
 Equipment: 2 Cones, 2 Mannequins, 2 Goals
 No. of Players: 4 Outfield, 2 Goalkeepers

THE STEPS

1. The dribbling player runs with the ball at full pace towards the mannequin.
 The forward makes a run along the line of the mannequins and then into the space behind as the dribbling player makes a through pass.
2. The forward attempts to score with a first time shot.
3. Immediately the attack comes from the opposite end.
 The original dribbling player is now a forward and must react quickly to make his run and score at the opposite end.

ROTATION

- The dribbling player becomes the forward.
- The forward joins the queue to become the dribbling player.
- The target player joins the queue to become the attacker.

4 - Back Onside to Score

"Keep your strikers on their toes as they try to get back onside for a second chance to score."

SETUP

Area: 40 x 30 yards
Equipment: 2 Cones, 2 Mannequins, 1 Goal
No. of Players: 4 Outfield, 1 Goalkeeper

THE STEPS

1. The attacker dribbles, completes a skill (such as a stepover) and then shoots at goal.
2. Now the attacker reacts to quickly get back onside.
Once back onside, the attacker makes another run in behind the mannequin as a 2nd ball is played into space by the coach.
3. The forward races after the ball and gets a 2nd shot at goal.

ROTATION

- The attacker joins the back of the queue on the opposite side ready for their next turn.

1

The attacker beats the mannequin for a shot at goal.

Now a longer pass is made into the white striker.
The white striker now sets the grey striker to shoot at goal.
2. Immediately both players react.
The white player calls for a pass from his team mate.

Small-Sided Games

“Having guided your players through the unopposed and opposed drills they should now have a greater level of ability, technique and understanding when in Attacking situations. The final piece of our coaching jigsaw is to progress to Small-Sided Games. In the Small-Sided Games we are looking to create a real game environment where opposing sets of players are both trying to score. Now as the coach you can lead your team through ways of attacking from deep, wide, and central positions. It’s also important to teach the players that without possession of the ball it’s impossible for them to attack, therefore each player has a role to play on defence and then on the transition of winning the ball”

68 - Use the Neutral

"Neutral players are always on the attack in this game. Can the attackers utilize their numerical advantage to create a shooting opportunity?"

SETUP

Area: 40 x 30 yard
 Equipment: 2 Goals
 No. of Players: 9 Outfield (3 teams of 3),
 2 Goalkeepers

THE RULES

1. Two teams play 3 v 3 in a small pitch.
2. The other team acts as neutrals that play for the team in possession with one player on each wing and one on the pitch.

Conclusion

I hope the drills in this book have helped you to take your players and team to a higher level. As coaches of the next generation of players, fans, coaches and officials we have big responsibility and effect on the future of the game.

Let me share a key insight with you:

“The game of football is unpredictable and although two things can often be similar they are never the same. Therefore, as coaches, our training sessions must not always be predictable. If they are, then our players will not function effectively in matches as they will be programmed to both play and react to predictable movements.

Therefore, repetitive training of techniques and skills is good to a point, but players must be given choice and variation on actions, movements and starting positions. We must recreate the game in our training.”

I would like to thank you personally for purchasing this book and I welcome your feedback and questions personally to me at mike.beale@coach-soccer.com
